SECURITY OF INFORMATION

The Company takes the security of its customers/users information very seriously. The Company protects the customers/Users data using Transport Layer Security (TLS) protocol. This creates an encrypted connection between the User's browser and the Company's servers. All information always remains encrypted. If the Customer/User allows the Company to see its banking information online rather than in paper form, it is on a read-only basis. The Company does not have access to change, edit, or modify bank account information in any manner whatsoever. The Company employees cannot view the User's banking username and passwords, and the same is securely stored in separate encrypted areas with its financial services providers.

All information provided to the Company is stored on its secure servers within India.

The Company uses commercially reasonable safeguards to preserve the integrity and security of the Customers/Users' information against loss, theft, unauthorized access, disclosure, reproduction, use or amendment.

The information that is collected from the Customers/Users may be transferred to, and stored at any destination in India. By submitting information on the Website, the Customers/Users agree to this transfer, storing and/ or processing. The Company will take such steps as it considers reasonably necessary and in adherence to applicable laws to ensure that the Customers/Users information is treated securely and in accordance with the Policy. The Company implements cyber security policy for handling all security breaches in compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

In using the Website, the Customers/Users accept the inherent security implications of data transmission over the internet and the World Wide Web cannot always be guaranteed as completely secure. Therefore, the use of the Website will be at the own risk of the Customers/Users.

The Company assumes no liability for any disclosure of information due to errors in transmission, unauthorized third-party access, or other acts of third parties, or acts or omissions beyond its reasonable control and the Customer/User agrees not to hold the Company responsible for any breach of security unless such breach has been caused as a direct result of gross negligence or willful default by The Company.

In the event the Company becomes aware of any breach of the security of the Customers/Users information, it will promptly notify the Customers/Users and take appropriate action to the best of its ability to remedy such a breach.

COOKIES

The Company collects certain information from the Customers/Users browser using small data files called "cookies." The Company uses session ID cookies to confirm that customers are logged in. This type of cookie helps the Company recognize a customer if he or she visits multiple pages on the Website during the same session, so that separate passwords are not required to access each page. These cookies terminate once the customer closes the browser. By default, the Company uses a persistent cookie that stores customer login ID (but not password) to make it easier for the customer to login when returning to the Website. The Company encodes its cookies so that only the Company can interpret the information stored in them. The User may remove or block this cookie using the User's browser settings to disable the feature.

The Company also stores transaction history. The Company may collect additional information in ways not specifically described herein. For example, The Company may track information related to interactions with customer service or responses from surveys or other feedback tools. The Company uses this information to continually improve the service provided to the customers.

The Company's Privacy Policy does not cover the use of cookies by its partners and affiliates. The Company does not have access to or control over these cookies. The Company's partners and affiliates may use session ID cookies to provide a custom user experience and to track the success of the Company partnership with them.

WEB BEACONS

The web pages of the Website contain electronic images known as "web beacons" (sometimes called single-pixel gifs) and are used along with cookies to compile aggregated statistics to analyses how the Website is used. Web beacons may also be used in some of the Company's emails to know which emails and links recipients have opened, allowing it to gauge the effectiveness of its customer communications and marketing campaigns.

REFERRALS

If the Customer/User wishes to introduce the Company/ the Website to any other person / entity, the Customer/User will be asked to provide such person / entity's name and email address. The Company will automatically send such person/entity an email inviting it or to visit the Website. The Company stores this information for the purpose of sending this email and keeping a record of the number of persons / entities referred by the Customers/Users. The Company may send additional emails to the said person / entity in connection with services offered by the Company. Such person / entity may contact the Company at info@lightfinance.com to request that this information be removed from the Company database.

LINKS TO THIRD-PARTY WEBSITES
